Keynote Speaker – Jessica Cox

In 2004, Jessica Cox flew in a single engine airplane for the first time. After three years of training, Jessica earned her pilot's certificate in 2008. She is qualified to fly a light-sport aircraft to altitudes of 10,000 feet.

Jessica's Sport Pilot Certificate is for an ERCO 415-C Ercoupe , (which is a light sport aircraft). Designed in the 1940s, the Ercoupe was built without rudder pedals. Instead, the rudder is interconnected with the ailerons through the yoke. This unique design allows Cox to control the airplane with one foot, controlling the yoke while the other foot controls the throttle. Cox's aircraft is a 1946 Ercoupe 415-C. She uses her 1946 Ercoupe to promote the mission of Rightfooted Foundation International, which is "Disability does not mean Inability." In July 2020, Cox used her Ercoupe to celebrate the 30th anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act by taking retired Senator Tom Harkin on a flight near Washington, DC.
